THE 1912 CLASSIC · ANNOTATED EDITION

Know your powers. Train your mind. Become more.

Long before "mindset" was a buzzword, Christian D. Larson set out to map every force a person has – the conscious mind, the subconscious, will, imagination, character and faith – and to show, step by step, how to use them in daily life.

This beautifully designed annotated edition keeps the complete 1912 text, including the first appearance of Larson's famous "Promise Yourself" – the creed millions know as The Optimist Creed – and adds what today's reader needs to put it into practice.

- The complete original text of 1912
- The original Optimist Creed, "Promise Yourself"
- A reflection and a practice after every chapter
- A guided 30-day practice with space to write
- Larson's life and the world of New Thought

"Promise yourself to be so strong that nothing can disturb your peace of mind."

CHRISTIAN D. LARSON

Your Forces and How to Use Them · CHRISTIAN D. LARSON

CHRISTIAN D. LARSON

Your Forces and how to Use Them

ANNOTATED EDITION

The 1912 classic on mind power, will & character with the original Optimist Creed & a 30-day practice