THE NEW THOUGHT PIONEER · ANNOTATED EDITION

Every thought is a seed. Choose yours.

Gold miner, sailor, teacher, journalist – Prentice Mulford lived a dozen lives before he retired to a cabin in the New Jersey woods and wrote the essays that made him one of the first voices of New Thought. His message was bold and simple: thoughts are real forces, and the mind we cultivate shapes the life we live.

This beautifully designed annotated edition presents thirteen of his best essays and adds what today's reader needs to put them into practice – with honest notes on what still holds up and what belongs to his time.

- Thirteen complete essays from the White Cross Library
- A reflection and a practice after every essay
- A guided 30-day practice with space to write
- A Quick Finder for everyday situations
- Mulford's adventurous life and the world of New Thought

"We need to be careful of what we think and talk."
